Sydney FC Junior Blue Membership – Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Junior Blues Membership?

The Junior Blues Membership is a free Membership for children aged 12 years and under who are registered football players with a Sydney FC Partner Association. The Junior Blues Membership card provides Junior Blues Members entrance to all home games* of Sydney FC in the Hyundai A-League 2010/11 season within designated Bronze (General Admission) seating areas.

subject to availability and the venue capacity constraints*

What is the Definition of 12 years and under?

You are eligible to sign up for Sydney FC's free Junior Blues Membership if you are born after 1 January 1998.

Which Football Associations within New South Wales are Sydney FC Partner Associations?

The following 15 Football Associations have an agreement with Sydney FC which enables their registered players (12 years and under) to sign up for the free Junior Blues Membership: Bankstown District Amateur Football Inc., Blacktown & District SFA Inc., Canterbury District SFA, Eastern Suburbs Football Association, Granville & District SFA Inc., Ku-Ring-Gai & District Soccer Association, Macarthur District SFA, Manly Warringah Football Association Inc., Nepean Districts SFA Inc., North West Sydney Women's Football, Football South Coast Limited, Southern Districts SFA, Gladesville Hornsby Football Association and Sutherland Shire Football Association Inc.

What if I am a registered player with another Football Association within New South Wales?

If you are a registered player with a Football Association which is not one of the 15 Sydney FC Partner Associations, you can approach your Football Association with the request to contact Sydney FC in order to receive the terms and conditions of the Sydney FC Partner Association agreement. Please also send us an email to membership@sydneyfc.com and inform us which Football Association you are a registered player with.

Sydney FC Junior Blue Membership – Frequently Asked Questions

Which are the designated Bronze (General Admission) seating areas for Junior Blues Members?

Sydney FC is currently designating specific seating areas for Junior Blues Members. Once we have finalised the specific seating areas for Junior Blues Members, we will inform you.

Does a Junior Blues Member need to register before each home game?

Yes, Sydney FC strongly advises Junior Blues Members to register their attendance in the week previous to the next Sydney FC home game. Junior Blues Members will automatically receive an email each Monday prior to the next home game to register.

I am a Sydney FC Member and my son or daughter wants to sign up as a Junior Blues Member. Can I sit with them?

Yes you can sit in the designated Bronze (General Admission) seating Bays with the Junior Blues Member(s) you are accompanying.

Can a Junior Blues Member be seated in the reserved seating bays allocated for Platinum Plus/Platinum/Silver or Cove Members?

No. The Junior Blues Member only has access to the allocated Bronze (General Admission) areas. They will need to purchase a match day ticket if they wish to be seated in a reserved seating area.

I am not a Sydney FC Member but my son/daughter wants to sign up as a Junior Blues Member. Is that possible?

Yes, it is. And if you want to accompany them you can buy Bronze (General Admission) match day tickets. You can also choose to sign up as a Sydney FC Member (Bronze) and let your Bronze Membership rotate between different parents/adults who can accompany your son/daughter as well.

I have already renewed my son or daughters Membership. Can I change their Membership into a Junior Blue Membership?

Yes you can. Please contact the Membership department to make the necessary changes
